A SALE of Work' in aid of the Baxter Chinese Girl's schools was held this afternoon in the City Hall. A large and wellasserted collection of fancy work and ladies' work of all kinds was spread on the tables, together with various other attractive and useful articles. During the afternoon a large number of ladies and gentlemen visited the sale, and we sincerely trust, as this is a most deserving object, that the most of the goods were disposed of. The Band of the 58th Regiment played during the afternoon. The following ladies kindly gave their assistance at the tables :-- Mrs Burdon, Miss B. Cameron, Mrs Buckner, Mrs Wright, Miss Eitel, Miss Lammert, Mrs Bird, Mrs Hirst, Mrs Storer, Mrs Blandy, Miss Stuart, Mrs Holmes, Miss Anderson, Miss Matthews, Mrs Withers, Miss Withers, Miss Holworthy, Mrs. Anton, Mrs. Veitch, Mrs Posmecker, Mrs Jennings, Mrs McEwen, Miss S. Cameron, Mrs Forbes, Mrs Huptingdon : Refreshment Stall-Misses Thomsett, Holworthy, Withers, Hazeland, Chalmers.

Some additional facts illustrating the way in which the unwary sailor who lands on these shores is bamboozled and essed of all his earnings, have been brought under our notice. A ship arrives here, let us say after a long voyage, during which the sailors have not received the best treatment. Some 870 or $80 is due to each of them. A runner for some of the boarding-houses goes on board the ship, takes possession of the sailors and doubtless treats them liberally. He soon; persuades them that they would be better to change ships, and while the liquor is flowing freely, the men are ready to accept almost any terms. The Captain is approached and the men obtain their discharge on receiving say about $20 in place of $80. Cases have been known in which the Captain did not need any approaching, but actually paid the runner some $10 to carry. through the business. The men while the $20 last are 'in glory' and quite reckless as to what they do. It not unfrequently OUTWARD BOUND: - Victora, H. Haar- comes to pass then that the Captain of some fager, August 23; Titania, September other sailing ship is in want of men, and 27; Priam, 30; Deucalion, Iphigenia, the sailors, often without knowing what Tooman, 10; Altnacraig, Preusen, 11; they are doing, sign articles and find them-Menelaus, Glenshiel, 14; Melbour c, selves bound to this ship. This transference costs them, besides the money they have lost by breaking their former agree, ment, $5 extra, which either goes into the pocket of the runner or into that of the Captain to whose service they have been transferred. As we said before, something of this sort, is going oh at this moment in Hongkong. We healtate yet to publish any names, sa most of the sailors are still too drank to permit of a satisfactory investigation being made. The procedure, however, we have described is unfortunately only too common in connection with sailing vessels that come Friday, the 28th instant. This packet from the Far West to the Far Rast, and the complaints against the unscrupulous The O. & O. Co.'s steamship Son Poblo, with conduct of some boarding-house runners is the AMBRICAN MATE of Oct. 1st, was to so loud and general that we think the matter deserves strict enquiry on the part of the salitorities.

amused some time ago to hear that a new Republic had been called into existence in South America by a certain M. Jules Gros, who had elected himself president and had in this capacity begun to greate an order of decorations and to grant honours to friends and to the highest bidders. This new Republic was to rule over a large territory between French Guiana and Brazil which had been in dispute between France and Brazil since the treaty of Utrecht. The sale of the decorations and the affairs of the new Republic went on gloriously for some timetill M. Gros had more decorated adherents than subjects. One morning, however, an (Before His Hon. Mr Justice Russell, Acting. announcement appeared in the official organ of the French Republic, stating that the enterprise was in flagrant opposition to the claims of the two states and that neither the Government of France nor the Governof Brazil could recognise the soidisant Republic Counanienne. This notice and doubtless other reasons led to a split between M. Jules Gros and his collaborateurs. The outcome of this was that President Gros issued a decree revoking the appointment of the Consul General he had appointed at Paris and all the other functionaries except one. This interesting aninteresting by which the said Consul General revoked the appointment of M. Jules Gros as President of the Great Republic of Counani, the Consul declaring that the President had only invented the order of the 'Star of Counani for the purpose of trading in decorations. This trade in decorations, it appears, had gone-to a considerable length, three of the 'Orders' fetching as high a price as 2,000 france each. The attention of the French Government was finally drawn to the matter, and by the latest papers from France we observe that the ex-President was likely to figure in the Police. Court on account of the illicit trade he had cant that shortly after this, according to telegrams received here about a week ago, a general enquiry scems to have been made into the disposal of decorations, with the result that one of the Generals of the Army was dismissed. It would seem as if the enquiry into the sale of the decorations of the ephemeral Republic had led to the discovery of fraud in connection with the French Republic itself.

THE PACIFICATION OF EGYPT.—The steady progress which is being made in the pacification of Egypt is shown by the proposal of Messrs Cook and Son to reopen their tourist traffic up the Nile beyond the First Cataract at Assauan to the Second, or Great Cataract at Wady Halfa. The traffic has been suspended since the year 1882, and its re-establishment is indicative of a greaty increased feeling of security along the Nile-Valley in Upper Egypt. For the last five years excursionists have been restrict register. ed to the lower reaches of the river, where, it is true, most of the magnificent monuments of the ancient kings are situated; but now the vast rock-hewn temple, at Aboo-Simbel is accessible, with its four colossal figures of Rameses IL and its unrivalled paintings and sculptures, 'the greatest attraction Nubia has to offer to the antiquarian student.' Travellers will be climbing the Korosko Mountain to look out over the dim distance of the desert track to Abn Hamed. We shall almost expect soon to hear that the long caravans have again begun to bring the wealth of coming at all. the Dark Continent to the markets of- - The defendant - then went into the wit-Egypt, as in the days before the fanatical Soudanese had learnt their power.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE COMING JUBILEE FETE AND ITS DANGERS. To the Editor of the 'CHINA MAIL.'

Oct. 26, 1887. Sir.—Probably not less than 100,000 persons will visit Hongkong to witness the rejoicings. Among this number, with the fares. low fares from Canton and Macao, there is little doubt a large growd of scoundrels will flock to this city, for a three days' burst of roguery. This may, influence the production of serious fires, and such being the case, it is the duty of the Government to satisfy the community that they are taking a great amount of extra precaution to protect this rich city from incondiaries. The following precautions are necessary.

Every fireman, from Mr Wodehouse down to the coolies on the rolls for pulling the during the two evenings of the fete. The Floating Fire Engine and the Land Engines should be kept with fires up; the former should be brought on this side instead of being left lying at Yau-ma-tee. Water mains should be turned full on throughout the city, so that time may not be lost in dealing with any fire. The Chinese should also be urged to increase their staff of watchmen.—Yours.

SUPREME COURT IN ORIGINAL JURISDICTION.

Chief Justice Wednesday, Oct. 26.

LAM TUK SHING persus PAUL BOHM. The hearing of this case was continued to-day. Mr J. J. Francis, Q.C., instructed by Mr Dennys, appeared for the plaintiff; the defendant conducted his own case.

Mr H. C. Maclean (of Messrs Jardine, Matheson & Co.) said—It is my duty

Between the 23rd and 28th of May, besides these 42, I granted; sixteen passports. Some of those 16 stated they were going by the San Pablo and some by other steamers. Defendant bere asked the witness to compare the plaintiff's list with his register, and state whether any of the names on the latter entered between the 20th and been carrying on. It is somewhat signific 28th May corresponded with the names on

Witness objected to the length of time which this would take. Defendant said he was very sorry, but was the only thing he could do His Lordship said he did not think there would be any good in following this course. as he did not see what was to prevent the passporta being taken out any time between the date of the contract and the time the vessel sailed.

Defendant said he would prove that the men only arrived here on the 22nd of May. His Lordship said in that case it would not be necessary to refer to an earlier date in the register than 22nd May.

The comparison of the list with the regis ter was then proceeded with, the defendant reading out the names from the former while the witness examined the register. Defendant said that only three of the

I find that I put on board 21 tons of water, and it is impossible that any more could have been put on board I produce the receipt for the 21 tons of water. The Captain told me before he went away that no provisions had been put on board by plaintiff. I said that was strange, and he said, 'Never mind, there engines, should be kept ready for duty, is plenty on board already.' On the 29th and 30th of May the plaintiff told me that he would buy passports for the men who had been left and make them ready. His Lordship asked if this was said i presence of anybody.

Defendant said he was not sure, but he had been told, and he thought he could prove that passports could be bought. He was told afterwards, however, that the price of passports had gone up so high owing to so many being wanted, that the amount required could not be raid for them. After the plaintiff gave the order for the vessel to go with the 45 men, I got no information on the same day or next day that there were any more ready to go. The Chairman said-The Report will, the Committee trust, be considered satisfactory. as, although large sums have been expended upon doing up the interior of the building, which has never before been thoroughly renovated since the City Hall was first opened in 1869, there are still sufficient funds in the hands of the Honorary Treasurer to enable the place to be kept going until the commencement of the coming season. appears impossible to keep ' white anta ' al together out of the annual report, but. far as can be ascertained, the building now free from any live insects, and the substitution of iron columns for the old wooden pillars in the Library will doubtless reduce their number in future. The Committee have never considered that money-making was the principal or even a chief object of the institution, and consequently have during the past 12 months, as in former years, frequently put the theatre and St. Andrew's Hall at the disposal of those engaged in charitable enterprises, free of cost, excep of course the expense of gas or actual payments out of pocket. The original debt o about $100,000, still remains unpaid, and to this must be added the loss of all interest on the money for 18 years; but the Committee feel justified in considering that the ideas of the original promoters have been fully carried out, when they see that during the past year, the premises have been utilized by the Amateur Dramatic Club, the Sketching Club, Choral Society, the Musical Ulub the Medical Society and other similar bodies, for their meetings, besides having afforded accommodation for the Cambridge Local Examinations, the Organ Fund fancy fair and the annual bazaara of the Baxter Mission School and the Frenc Convent. The fact, too, that the Free Library and Museum continue to be resorted to by such large numbers of visitors encourfor quiet study and recreation are appre ciated, and the Committee only regret their inability to expend money in the purchase of additional books and objects of interest No questions having been put, the Chair man proposed the adoption of the report Mr George seconded and the resolution was

He is a migsionary to China, and comewhat of a traveller in Europe. We understand that an Institution for the Blind has been established at Peking, by a Mr. Wm. Murray, and that 3 other Institutions of the kindare contemplated in Chinaone at Han-Kow, one at Shang-Hai and one at Hong-Kong. For deaf youths, there are 2 places, Tungchow in the north and Swatow in the south, where work has begun. Peking, Shang-Hai and Hong-Kong, or Canton should have at an early day schools opened so for these afflicted boys and girls. Practical and experienced teachers and flicers will be needed. Funds for maintaining the institutions can easily be raised in China, as the people there are benevolently disposed, but they first want to see the good
